Millan Is eful of a mit Meet

DENNIS NEEDLE

(AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, backed by a overwhelming vote of confidence from the British people, announced an East-West conference as early as next month, informants said.

Macmillan told the nation Friday that the sweeping election victory by his Conservative party meant a clear-cut mandate for full part in the conference for peace.

Macmillan has told President Eisenhower privately he favors Western action to take advantage of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's current conciliatory overtures towards the West.

Macmillan's two long-delayed top-level talks could mean new international tensions.

NO PLACE FOR PAPOOSE—The motor's on the caboose of this roller skate-powered "train" in Chicago, as Janet Slougher takes 14-month-old Arthur Mitchell to the store. The 18-pound power pack consists of a one-horsepower gas engine and flexible cable which drive a geared skate. Hand control operates the device, which gives over 70 miles from a quart of gas, at 20 miles an hour. The device and the special skates are manufactured by a Detroit, Mich., firm.

Receiver to Be Named for Conway Paper

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Murray O. Reed has ruled that a receiver may be appointed to handle the Conway Log Cabin Democrat and an allied job printing shop.

Reed yesterday overruled the protest of Mrs. Frances Sims Robins against a receivership, which has been requested by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lydie A. Robins.

Mrs. Frances Sims Robins is the widow of Frank E. Robins Jr., editor and publisher of the newspaper, who died here Aug. 12. Mrs. Lydie A. Robins is mother of late editor and widow of Frank E. Robins Sr.

Frank E. Robins Jr. left his half interest in the publishing property in three equal parts to his widow and to a son and a daughter by a previous marriage. His mother owns the other half interest.

The elder Mrs. Robins asked for a receiver because she said she was inexperienced in the publishing business. She suggested some procedure to protect the interest of all owners, including the possibility of selling the business at a public auction.

If a receiver conducted such a sale, members of the Robins family could bid on the property. Apparently they could not if they auctioned the company, which has been in the family since 1894.

The elder Mrs. Robins nominated Joe B. McGee, managing editor of the Log Cabin Democrat, as receiver. She was joined by both grandchildren in this recommendation at a hearing last week.

After being overruled in the contention that a receiver should not be appointed, an attorney for Mrs. Frances Sims Robins yesterday nominated three persons other than McGee for the job.

The three are Edgar B. Parker, mayor of Conway and owner of another printing company; James L. Verheef, court clerk here and former newspaperman; and Leo J. Byrne, operator of a Little Rock printing company.

Reed did not indicate when he would make a decision.

Laos Gives Facts to UN Committee

VIENIANE, Laos (AP)—Laos officials said today they have finished presenting to the U. N. four-nation fact-finding subcommittee evidence supporting charges of aggression by Communist North Vietnam.

U. N. officials also indicated they have seen all there is to see in the case. Laos now awaits the U. N. verdict based on the fact-finding mission's report to the security council.

The U. N. subcommittee said it will pass no judgment on the situation here and make no recommendations.

Red China Official Dies in Peiping

TOKYO (AP)—Li Chih-shen, 73, vice chairman of Red China's National Congress, died in Peiping today of stomach cancer, a local radio reported.

Li served as China's Katschick's chief of staff in 1923 but split with the general since the next year and joined the Kuomintang. He fought with the Nationalists in the war against Japan but after the Communist victory in 1949 joined the Reds.

Benson Warns U.S. Against Complacency

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson came back from a tour of Europe today with a word of caution against complacency in the contest with the Soviets.

He said his trip, which took him into Communist Poland and Yugoslavia as well as the Soviet Union, strengthened his conviction that capitalism is far superior to communism.

He took note of some easing of cold war tensions since the conferences between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. But he said he found that the Communists have not altered their goal of trying to make their system prevail throughout the world.

The secretary spent 10 days visiting in West Germany, Finland, Sweden and Norway in addition to the three Communist countries. "We spent much of our time," he said in a statement, "with the good, honest, hard-working people of the soil. We visited farmers in their fields and in their homes."

"I am confident," he added, "we can look forward to an era of peace if governments will respond to the will of the people."

But to that Benson added: "This does not mean that we in the United States can afford complacency. I saw much evidence that the Communists feel strongly that their system is superior and will prevail throughout the world."

Says Labor Suffers No Serious Setback

LONDON (AP) — Smiling Hugh Gaitskill said today the British Labor party had "suffered neither a landslide nor a disaster but a setback" in its vain bid to win power in Thursday's national election.

Party leader Gaitskill made the remark during a news conference. "We shall attack again and again until we win."

The man who had set out to oust Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government made his statement at Transport House—more like Black House—headquarters of the Labor party.

Scores of newsmen and television cameramen crowded a small room to hear the defeated leader's explanation for the Macmillan government's runaway victory.

"The swing against us was a very small one," he said. "The losses were in marginal seats only. They amounted to a swing of three people in every 200. They can be recovered."

China Reds Shell Quemoy Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Communist shelled the Quemoy Islands today for the first time in four days. The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Reds fired 68 rounds in a 70-minute period before dawn.

Rather Well, Says Mr. Macmillan

LONDON (AP) Prime Minister Harold Macmillan commented of his Conservative party's evening election victory with classic British understatement today. "It has gone off rather well," he said.

T-H Procedures in Steel Strike Set in Motion

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Taft-Hartley law procedures under way to end the 88-day steel strike, a week or more may drift by before the crippling stoppage is halted.

President Eisenhower, in invoking the T-H law in the steel dispute late Friday, gave an inquiry board a week to hold hearings, and report back to him on the situation.

The hearings will open here Monday afternoon. The board will hold an organization meeting here Sunday morning.

The panel, headed by George W. Taylor, a skilled labor disputes arbitrator and former chairman of the War Labor Board and Wage Stabilization Board, must report before the President can seek an 80-day strike-nalting injunction.

The reporting deadline of next Friday gives Taylor and his two fellow panel members an opportunity to try to mediate the stalemate steel contract fight.

The other two panel members are John Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, and Paul N. Lebeck, Ohio State University professor and another veteran arbitrator.

Eisenhower expressed profound regret that the industry and striking steelworkers had been unable to reach an agreement. He stressed that both have a continuing and grave obligation "to resume negotiations and reach a just and responsible settlement at the earliest possible time."

But the President said both sides had informed him they saw no hope for a settlement. Eisenhower said he had no alternative but to intervene with the nation's health and welfare thus imperiled.

The industry had no immediate comment. But David J. McDonald, Steelworkers' Union president, said in Pittsburgh the use of Taft-Hartley procedures "would set nothing on a permanent basis."

A sampling of striking steelworkers in the Pittsburgh area brought a chorus of protests. Some hinted at a new walkout during the Christmas holidays after an 80-day injunction ran out.

It was the second time in a week that Eisenhower had set the T-H procedures into motion to end big strikes. Earlier he did it in the East-Gulf Coast docks strike. The longshoremen now are working under an injunction.

The companies have offered what they describe as gains worth 13 cents an hour over two years. The union says the industry offer is actually less, but in any event they want 15 cents hourly gain each year of a new contract. This is over twice what the companies have offered. Complimenting the impasse is the company demand for more leeway in making work cost economies.

The Steelworkers were averaging $3.11 hourly before the strike began.

Seeks Way to Avoid Private Labor Wars

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, says some way must be found to avoid private wars between workers and management.

Such wars, he said Thursday night on the eve of the UAW convention, weaken the nation's economy at a time the Soviet Union is growing stronger.

Reuther's 369-page program to the 3,000 delegates included a call for greater militancy by labor in bargaining, organizing and legislation.

Saying big business dominated the national scene, Reuther added: "It is no mere coincidence that the longest steel strike in the nation's history has come during the administration of a Republican President who has enshrined the big business viewpoint in the White House, surrounded himself with advisers and golfing companions from big business and adopted industry propaganda on every major question of the day as his personal gospel."

At a news conference, Reuther said profit-sharing is still one of the UAW's bargaining goals although it got nowhere in the last contract talks with the auto makers. He suggested it might be a good thing for the steel industry.

British Election Sends Up Stocks

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative election victory sent stock prices booming to near record heights on the London exchange today. Experts said they had never seen such a wave of buying.

Steel shares—rising by as much as 16 shillings ($2.24)—led a massive upswing in industrials.

Red Tide Leaves Wake of Dead Fish

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Reports that "thousands upon thousands" of rotting fish killed by red tide has washed onto beaches near Sarasota were termed "gross exaggerations" today by officials in the area.

"There were about four fish to the square foot on the beach here last night," Police Chief Glib Harrington of Longboat Key said. He added that he had heard no complaints from residents about the toxic fumes which accompany red tide.

"The high tide which came in during the night swept the beach clean, except for a few fish marooned on high ground."

A check at Lido Key showed only about 300 fish, mostly trash and scavenger types, on the beach today.

Sarasota City Manager Kent Thompson flew over the Sarasota Bay area this morning.

"There is a considerable mass of dead fish floating offshore," he said, "but the beach areas are relatively clear."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Thousands of dead fish killed by the Red Tide washed up in Sarasota Bay today in the wake of tropical storm Irene, and residents reported the stench unbearable.

Some residents were reported leaving the area.

Residents of Longboat Key said fish under the bridges there were so thick the water could not be seen.

Trucks and bulldozers were expected to be in the area in the morning to haul away and bury the carcasses.

The stinging fumes of Red Tide, cause throat, lung, eye and skin irritations to humans.

Red Tide is the common name for a marine organism that kills fish when it gathers in heavy concentrations.

Flood Damage in Arkansas Hits Millions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ebbing floodwaters of the Arkansas River left crop damage estimated in millions of dollars today as hard-hit Crawford and Sebastian counties readied requests for federal disaster aid.

The crop loss — 90 per cent in boybeans — in Crawford County was a million dollars, with 15,000 acres under water.

Sebastian County had 8,000, 9,000 acres of farmland inundated but no monetary loss estimate was available. Some 500 farm families in the counties were affected by the flood when the rain-swollen river gushed out of its banks this week.

The river dropped slightly at Fort Smith, but several points far downstream, including Little Rock and a crest at Pine Bluff, was forecast for early next week.

At Clarksville, where the river washed over a levee protecting cotton acreage, one landowner expressed hope the crop wouldn't be a total loss. B. A. Thompson said some of the cotton is seven feet tall and the water is about two feet on 12,000 acres. It was the first fall flood in the area since 1941.

Sebastian and Crawford county authorities planned to send their disaster aid requests to state headquarters of the Farmers Home Administration today. The requests, which will enable farmers to apply for aid, will be forwarded to Washington for action.

Squaw County Oklahoma, across the line from the two Arkansas counties, reported 21,000 acres flooded, with damage estimated at $679,000.

Oversubscription of Treasury Notes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury today announced a huge oversubscription for its Oct. 1 public offering of $2,200,000,000 in treasury notes carrying 5 per cent interest.

The interest rate was the highest in 30 years.

Some 150,000 investors, the largest number in the memory of Treasury officials, offered to buy. An unprecedented number offered fully paid subscriptions.

Treasury officials described the outcome as highly satisfactory, because they were able to place in bulk of the securities in the hands of individuals and savings-type institutions. This means the inflationary impact of federal borrowing.

Commerce banks will get only 8 per cent of the value of the notes they bid for, the Treasury said, and other non-savings types of investors will get only 1 per cent. Purchase of U. S. Securities by commercial banks is considered potentially inflationary.

THE UNCLES SAM—"Uncle Sam" is other than the personification of the United States to residents of Troy, N.Y., where Edward Wachter, left, and Michael Wahr, 2½, help celebrate his birthday. The real Uncle Sam was Sam Wilson, who inspected goods purchased for the United States government in Troy, way back in 1812. He became known as U. S. (Uncle Sam) Wilson and cartoonists clothed the legend with the well-known whiskers, hat and costume.

Employ the Handicapped Week Designed to Give Not Charity But Opportunity to Workers

By MARY ANITA LASETER

The week, October 4-10, has symbolized for thousands upon thousands of people in the United States a change in attitude toward them by the general public.

"Not charity but opportunity" is now given to the handicapped workers of our land, and the results have been both gratifying and profitable to employers and employees alike.

The web of prejudices which sometimes hampers employment of the handicapped is gradually yielding to the sweep of the cooperative boom. In social adjustment, in medical care, and in vocational rehabilitation there are now a variety of activities and of trained personnel which were only a dream 20 years ago.

All together there are 33 agencies in our state participating in this effort to assist the physically handicapped to be self-supporting members of the community. These include the Arkansas Governor's Committee on Employment Service, Vocational Rehabilitation, Veterans Administration, and the Employment Security Division.

Much of the credit for the increased use of handicapped workers in industry and commerce is due to the performance of the workers themselves. It is now well established that handicapped workers perform as well as anyone else if they are given work and working conditions suitable for them.

In many cases, even severely disabled can be useful and productive if given a chance. It is not what a person has lost, but what he has left, that counts. Or, to put it another way, employers are urged to look for handicapped applicants' abilities, not their disabilities.

The thousands of workers who fall into the category of Physically Handicapped usually manage to give "something extra" to their work — extra care in their performance of duty, extra desire to please, and extra pride in a job well done.

Nowadays, the handicapped are making news! Increasing acceptance of the handicapped by private employers as an integral and valuable part of the work force and labor market is due in most instances to personnel training, program planning, and the cooperation of public and private organizations.

It looks like the public is about to accept the fact that it is "Good Business to Hire the Handicapped."

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Mayton, 60, who died at her home Thursday, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Central Church of Christ by A. J. McElroy. Burial will be in Central Cemetery.

No Returns in Labor Paper

LONDON (AP) — The London Daily Worker hit the streets today without a single election return.

Instead, the Communist party paper announced in a page 1 box it would publish the election results Saturday.

Soviet Union Playing a Star Role Before UN

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Riding high on the prestige of two moon missiles and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's red carpet treatment in the United States, the Soviet Union is playing the star role on the General Assembly stage this year.

The Soviets have seized the initiative on most East-West questions since Khrushchev told the Assembly Sept. 14 of his scheme for a world without war.

Both the disarmament and outer space issues hinge mainly on plans put forth by the Soviets. The initial proposals were couched in such general terms that the West had no choice but to agree with them in principle.

To oppose Khrushchev's call for global agreement to scrap all arms and armies would have sounded like an argument against peace.

It would have been equally difficult to block the Soviet call for an international conference of scientists to swap experiences in exploring outer space.

The one East-West question on which the Western powers have taken the initiative has threatened to backfire.

The call for an airing of the Red China-Tibet situation has alienated a number of Asian neutrals. They feel it would only touch off bitter East-West debate and heighten tensions caused by the talks between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

The bitter exchange which erupted between the Soviet Union and the United States Friday night, when the Tibet item was brought up in the Steering Committee, only served to heighten the neutrals' apprehension. The cold war clash between the two big powers was one of the bitterest the U. N. has heard in some time.

The Soviet's proposals are under the limelight but they may be in for some rough going before the Assembly session is over. The Soviets left themselves open for Western attack when they told the U. N.'s Political Committee Friday that they opposed detailed examination of disarmament controls until agreement is reached in principle on the Khrushchev plan.

The Western powers have not been expressed privately that the Soviets were still trying to downgrade controls. U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has made plain that he did not feel the Khrushchev plan placed enough emphasis on foolproof international controls.

Ex-Hempstead Resident Dies at Okolona

Frank Rowe, 82, died at his home in Okolona Friday at 9:40 a. m. He was a retired farmer, having farmed in Hempstead county for many years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Delle Rowe; five sons, D. J. of Tyler, Texas; Porter of Okolona; Tony of Ozon; Robert and James of Hope; three daughters, Mrs. Allen Spradlin of Hooks, Texas; Mrs. C. C. Cox of Okolona and Mrs. Marvin Autrey of Texarkana. Three brothers and three sisters.

Murry Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements. Funerals will be held at Trinity Methodist Church at 2:30 Sunday.

Song Writer Is Broke at Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny Fields, the song and dance man who enriched the lives of many a showgoer, apparently died broke. Fields, fatally stricken by a heart attack last Aug. 16 at the age of 63, bequeathed all his possessions to his widow and co-star, Blossom Seeley Fields.

But a trust company officer, named executor of the estate, said in an affidavit Thursday: "To the best of my knowledge, information and belief, Benny Fields left no assets."

Fields' 13-year-old will was filed in Surrogate's Court.

Lunik Near Orbit Path Around Earth

MOSCOW (AP)—Lunik III today approached the point-of-return for a sweeping orbit around the earth after its flight behind the moon. On emerging from the moon's field of gravity the speed of the space vehicle slowed steadily. It was now reported moving only half a kilometer a second—compared to the moon's one kilometer a second. A kilometer is five tenths of a mile.

The 614-pound flying laboratory is expected to begin its return journey by Saturday. It was reported 275,000 miles from the earth Thursday.

The Soviet news agency Tass said all equipment aboard is still functioning perfectly.

There was still no official indication, however, whether the satellite had succeeded in taking the first picture ever made of hidden side of the moon or of what data was sent back.

Weather

Partly cloudy today, clearing with thunderstorms tomorrow.

New Trouble Indicated in Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The attempt to assassinate Iraq's Premier indicated a new trend and vastly confused crisis boiling up in the Middle East.

This time, world communism would be directly involved. The United States and its Western partners likely would seem to the majority of Arabs less the villains and more the innocent bystanders.

The prospect of new turmoil in the Arab East can hardly be pleasant to the United States and the West. All such crises are dangerous. The next one could be all the more so if it develops into a test of strength between Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and those who challenge his claim to Arab leadership.

No matter what the source of the attempt on Premier Abdel Karim Nasser's life in Baghdad, the incident will bring on a period of rigid martial law in which the leader of the 15-month-old Iraqi revolution will try to keep his enemies at bay.

This comes at an opportune moment for the Communists. Nasser is involved in a violent war of words with Baghdad. He also is embroiled in a nasty quarrel with Communist China, which more and more has been attempting to throw its weight around in the Middle East.

This quarrel came about as the result of an attempt by the Arab Communists and the Chinese Communists to ally themselves with the fledgling Iraqi republic against Nasser. This drew angry response from Cairo. It happened less than a week ago.

But first, here is some background: When Nasser's U.A.R. absorbed Syria, Cairo outlawed all organized political parties, leaving only Egypt's United National Front. The Communists had been strong in Syria, which had been their Middle East headquarters.

The merger forced them underground and their leaders to flee. Among those who fled was Khalid Bakdash, the head of some Arab Kurd who heads the Arab Red.

Baghdad offered a new opportunity. With the revolution, the Communists moved in strongly and were largely responsible for generating a fantastic Baghdad-Cairo feud. The Communists apparently had no intention of leaving their foothold in Iraq as they had, through Nasser's influence in Syria.

Last week Bakdash showed up in Peiping. There he made a violent speech attacking Nasser and accusing him of plotting to take over Iraq.

Cairo, already deeply involved in propaganda warfare with Baghdad, lodged a strong protest in Peiping. Peiping virtually ignored it. The Cairo press and radio poured abuse on the Chinese Communists as new imperialists.

The Baghdad plot will step up the word war between Iraq and the U.A.R. In return, this could have the effect of strengthening the Communist hand in Iraq itself.

It seems unlikely that the Communists will attempt to take over in Iraq. They don't seem strong enough, and the Red goal in the Middle East appears to be to create chaos which will reverberate throughout the area, affecting, for example, non-Arab Iraq's eastern neighbor.

Nasser remains strong in his Arab following. But the Communists are working on him. Possibly they hope that they can create conditions in which Nasser might lose his base for his Arab following. The result of this surely would be incessant turmoil, a situation in which the Communists could hope to do their worst.

They are not alone in this work. Their aim would not be conquest in the foreseeable future, but rather to render that whole vital area uninhabitable for Western influence.

Shopping for the man in your life is never difficult if you remember that he, as much as any member of the family, likes to be pleasantly surprised. Sport shirt (left) in bright plaid is the kind of Christmas gift that American men like. This one is all-cotton, comes in several color combinations, is wash-and-wear. It also comes with either long or short sleeves. Wool suburban coat (center) has zip-off hood that provides protection against cold, snowy days. Both coat and hood are quilt-lined. Huge bottle of cologne, discreetly scented with royal fern (right), can be used lavishly after shower or shave. It's a dry cologne, one that men appreciate.

DOROTHY DIX

Lax Sons Threatened With Ax in Will

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix:
We have two married sons who never come to see us unless they are invited to dinner and seldom even then. We don't blame our daughters-in-law either. After all, the sons are men of free will and if they wanted to come, they would.

We are thinking of making a will and leaving what money we have to charity. Since the children pay little attention to us alive, I doubt if they will even say a prayer for us after death.—Dis-couraged Parents

Dear Dix: Make will by all means — everyone should have this done — but don't cut off your children. This is a melodramatic gesture against all your true desires. You worked hard for whatever money you have and even if your sons don't visit often, they do love you, and you love them. You want them to enjoy the small luxuries you can give them. Young men are often thoughtless. Pray that they will acquire understanding with years, and make up in the future for the heartache they are causing now.

My husband always wants me to look nice, but he won't give me a cent for clothes, cosmetics or hair-dos. However, if I buy anything and hand him the bill, he pays it without a fuss. If I tell him I need something from a store where we have a charge account, he says we can't afford it, but if I buy it anyway, he admires it and pays the bill. This works out all right except that I'd enjoy telling him beforehand I feel actually sneaky buying first, then telling him.—Claudia

Dear Claudia: You can't have everything, and it's much more pleasant to have hubby pay the bill without a fuss than to refuse you altogether. Lots of men hate the thought of spending money, but the reality doesn't bother them. You have to learn your husband's quirks and adjust to them. This is the thing called marriage. Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Radio's 'One Man's Family' Off the Air

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To many an American, One Man's Family was like his own. That's why the disappearance of the long-time radio-TV serial has caused a void in so many lives.

The saga of the Barabours dropped out of broadcasting last spring after 28 years on the air. Creator, Carlisle E. Morse estimates that between 25,000 and 30,000 letters of protest poured into NBC. He is still receiving 100 letters a week.

"But NBC moved into a new policy of radio programming," the veteran producer remarked. "Our show didn't fit into it, so we were dropped."

"There still is considerable interest to revive One Man's Family. There has been talk of going onto the new worldwide network. Something may eventuate. If it does—fine. But I'm not going after it."

Morse has suffered two serious illnesses and has been limiting his activities. He owns a great deal of his time at his farm on the peninsula south of San Francisco. But he is also here part of the year and keeps in touch with those who were members of his professional family for many years.

"J. Anthony Smyth, who played Father Barabour from the beginning, is near 80, but he still asks me if the show is going back on the air," Morse said.

Of the others, Page Gilman, who started as Jack at 14 and continued through the history of the show, is a printer living in Ojai, Borinice Berwin, who was Hazel, is married to a San Francisco attorney.

Russell Thorson (Paul) and Virginia Gregg (Betty) are active in television, as are most of the other cast alumni. At least two of the TV cast have prospered since their One Man's Family days — Eva Marie Saint, who played Claudia, and Tony Randall, who was one of her suitors.

RUNAWAY PLANE
HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Chester Bone, who pilots an airplane in crop dusting, landed the plane in an open field to check a crop location. Somehow the throttle opened. Bone grabbed a wing, but fell off. After the aircraft ran over him three times, it crashed into a fence. Bone received minor injuries.

Bobcats Turn Back Crossett 7-6

Hope Completely Outplays Heavier Eagle Eleven

By TEDDY JONES JR.
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope's Bobcats won their first 4 AA Conference game by downing the Crossett Eagles 7 to 6 last night at Hammond Stadium.

The Cats rolled over their heavier South Arkansas opponents in a hard fought contest before 2,500 fans, the season's largest crowd to date.

Captain John Pierce's charges roared back in the second half following a scoreless stalemate during the first two quarters, to break the game wide open in the third quarter.

Johnny Turner set the stage for Hope's lone touchdown by intercepting Eagle Quarterback Mike Young's third down pass on the Eagle 30 yard line and scampering to the Crossett 9 yard line. On fourth down Eddie King cut back between his own RT and RE and went six yards for Hope's lone tally of the night.

Turner kicked the all important PAT which proved to be the margin of victory.

Big Terry Don Thurman, speedy Eddie King, along with Turner and QB Smiley dominated the running play for the night piling up a decided advantage over the highly touted Eagle backs.

The Bobcats piled up 247 yards total offense as compared to 148 for the visitors. Bobby Keen, 4AA Conference high scorer, and Don Switzer, big Crossett fullback, were the big guns for the Eagles. Switzer is a brother of Barry Switzer, center on the Razorback Wild Hog unit.

Down 7 to 0 following the Bobcat quick third quarter TD the Eagles swarmed right back to score their third period marker. Following Sutton's recovery of an Eagle fumble on the Hope 38 yard line following the kick off Vaughn of the Bobcats punted to the Hope 48. Keen and Switzer lugged the pigskin to the Hope 18 where QB Mike Young of Crossett hit end Robert Mizell with an 18 yard completion in the end zone to bring the score to 7 to 6.

FB Switzer, leading extra point kicker in 4AA Conference play, didn't stand a chance on the PAT as the Cat linebacker shot the gap to block his attempted conversion, leaving the score 7 to 6 in favor of the Bobcats.

The first half was played pretty much on even terms with both teams relying on their kicking game to ward off any serious offensive drives. Larry Vaughn of the Bobcats averaged 30 yards on 4 kicks and Wayne Jackson of the Eagles averaged 35 yards on 7 tries.

The Cats deepest penetration of the first half was to the 20 yard line following recovery of a blocked Jackson punt in the second quarter. In the first quarter an Eddie King quick kick got the Cats out of a hole when he kicked 45 yards to midfield from his own goal line.

Several hundred Crossett fans were on hand to cheer their favorites coming on five buses in addition to many private cars. The Eagle Band and Pep squad performed at the half as did the Bobcat Band. Both contingents were enthusiastically received by the large crowd.

First Quarter

Hope won the toss and elected to receive at the north end. KO was returned to the Hope 41. Hope was unable to make yardage and Vaughn punted to the Eagles near midfield. Following Jackson's return kick the Cats were set back on their own 20 yard line on a clipping penalty. Vaughn failed to gain King quick kicked to the Crossett 45, and three plays later the Eagles kicked back to the Hope 18.

Turner went for a first down on the Hope 31. On fourth down Thurman went for 19 yards to the Crossett 41 yard line for first and 10. Smiley passed to King for a first and ten on the 21 yard line pass being good for 18 yards. Following two Smiley incompletions, one dropped on the goal line, the Eagles took over on their own 20.

Switzer and Keen, halfback, drove to their own 39 yard line as the quarter ended.

Score: Hope 0, Crossett 0.

Second Quarter

Held on their own 49 yard line Bobby Jackson of the Eagles got off a 32 yard punt to the Hope 5. Following one running play for no gain Eddie King quick kicked to midfield on the 50 yard line.

A 15 yard penalty set the Eagles back to the 35, where on 4th down Jackson's punt was blocked with Sutton recovering for Hope on the Crossett 34.

Thurman plowed for a first and 10 to the Crossett 23. Smiley, attempting to circle end and pass, was thrown for three consecutive losses back to the Hope 40 where the Eagles took over.

Unable to gain the Eagles Jackson kicked to the end zone where the Cats took over on their own 20. A consistent running and passing attack sprinkled with a few Cat incompletions, advanced the ball to the Crossett 30 yard line as the first half ended. Halftime score: Hope 0, Crossett 0.

Third Quarter

Crossett received to start the second half and Duke of the Cats kicked into the end zone for an automatic touchdown with the Eagles taking over on their own 20 yard line. Keen made a first and 10 on the Bobcat 31 yard line.

On a third down situation QB Young of the Eagles faded back to pass and was chased by pursuing Bobcat linemen to about his own 13 yard line where he passed into the right flat down the side line.

It was at this point that Johnny Turner of the Bobcats broke the ball game wide open, and broke the Eagles back, by intercepting the aerial on the 30 and going to the Crossett 9.

Thurman drove to the five. Thurman lost a yard to the 6 yard line and then picked up a yard trying to go around right end.

With 4th down and five to go Eddie King on a cut back scooted over for the TD. Johnny Turner's placement was good for the extra point.

Switzer returned the KO to midfield and the Eagles drove for a first down on the Hope 28. Sutton recovered a fumble to end the drive.

The Cats were set back 15 yards on a clipping penalty to the Hope 32 and Vaughn punted to the Hope 48.

Keen went for a first and 10 on the Cat 33 yard line. Switzer hit through the middle for 12 yards to the Hope 20 and another first and 10.

Unable to gain through the line QB Young dropped back and hit Mizell in the right end zone with an 18 yard pass for the Crossett TD. Switzer's try by placement was blocked. Making the score Hope 7, Crossett 6.

Switzer kicked out of bounds following the KO and the Cats took over on their own 40 yd line. King went 16 yards to the Crossett 44 for a first and ten as the third quarter ended. Score Hope 7, Crossett 6.

Switzer kicked out of bounds following the KO and the Cats took over on their own 40 yd line. King went 16 yards to the Crossett 44 for a first and ten as the third quarter ended. Score Hope 7, Crossett 6.

Duke went for a first and 10 to the Crossett 32 but the Cats were unable to gain and lost the ball on downs. The Eagles likewise could not move and kicked to the Hope 47. King lugged to the Crossett 41 for a first and 10.

The Cats couldn't gain and QB Smiley couldn't connect on an aerial so Vaughn barely missed kicking out of bounds the ball going into the end zone for a touchback. Crossett took over on their own 20.

The Cat line held and Jackson punted to the Hope 31. Thurman, King, Smiley and Turner drove for five consecutive first downs with the clock fast running out. King made a first and 10 on the Hope 41. Thurman, aided by a 5 yard offside penalty, made a first and 10 on the Crossett 42. Thurman again for another first down on the Crossett 36. Turner, Duke and Thurman to the 11 yard line for another first.

Smiley circled left and to the five yard line with five seconds

THE DARK FANTASTIC

BY WHIT MASTERSON

Illustrated by Whit Masterson. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

Mallory reacted without conscious plan plunging into the deep, kicking the engine to life. As it roared, he put the clutch in low gear and pulled out the hand throttle. The little car lurched down the slope into the creek bed pointed at the truck.

The windshield seemed to explode in front of him and a numbing blow hit his left shoulder. Mallory flung himself sideways, tumbling into the rushing waters of the creek, while the jeep careened on like a wounded beast.

While the smugglers were still firing at the jeep, he began to run upstream toward the buried spring. Groping upward, his hands encountered Aguilar's limp body. Working one-handed, he succeeded in dislodging the other man's ankle and, as the lightning flashed once more, Mallory dragged him down. The sudden weight was too much for him to support and they fell heavily to the sand. An instant later, a stream of bullets probed the darkness where they had been.

Aguilar was stunned. Mallory himself wasn't in much better condition. The smugglers seemed to realize that they had won. They broke off firing and Mallory heard the truck's engine start. He raised his head, trying to make out the black phantom shaped as it lumbered slowly past him, once more headed north. He groped in the mud for Aguilar's carbide but couldn't find it. He drew his revolver and rose, swaying, to his knees. Wait for the next flash, he told himself, then try to hit the gas tank. The brilliant light exploded over the beach again but it brought with it such a wave of dizziness that he was unable to keep the pistol barrel from wobbling. He closed his eyes to clear them.

When he opened them again he was surprised to see that the lightning flash had not faded out continued to illuminate the sand. The new light was man-made, powerful searchlights mounted on vehicles that were closing in from both north and south, on the black truck. The shrill thunder was their sirens. The soldiers from the Ensenada and Tijuana garrisons had arrived.

Mallory scrambled to his feet to watch. The smugglers, caught between the two forces, opened fire first. The reply was quick. Machineguns from the army half-tracks poured a fullside into the truck, the course of the bullets bright and plain with tracers. The truck seemed to shudder then swung off slowly out of control toward the ocean. It lurched into the surf and came to a stop, its hubcaps submerged in the frothing water. Soldiers began to pile out of the half-tracks.

"Hey!" Mallory shouted. "Hey, over here!"

A searchlight swung around to glare at him. He waved with his good arm, hoping that they wouldn't shoot him.

It was Aguilar who convinced them that he was after all, an ally. He had recovered consciousness and, though in obvious pain, confirmed what Mallory had said. He ordered the lieutenants to keep his men away from the truck and to allow Mallory to investigate it alone, a command the lieutenants found hard to understand. But rank had its way.

A sudden premonition enveloped him and he waded rapidly around to the cab. As he flung open the door, a man fell out onto the fender and lay there, one limp arm dangling in the water. It was Cagigas. El Gallo's henchman. Mallory leaned into the cab, staring. Two other men huddled there. The driver, slumped across the wheel, was unknown to him. But the third man's red hair and pudgy face was unmistakable. It was El Gallo himself.

As Mallory stood there, a sick sensation knotting his stomach, El Gallo stirred. His head lifted; his eyes, glazed and dying, found Mallory. "That fool Cagigas," he mumbled. "Told him—no reason to fight—no profit in revenge..." His head fell forward against the dashboard.

The battle of Pozo Coyote had been in vain. The smugglers, the contraband—and, most important, Blackjack—were still at large.

Colonel Aguilar was brought into the Tijuana general hospital. His wound, though painful, was not serious; the bullet had passed through the upper thigh without shattering the bone.

Shortly afterward he was surprised by the appearance at his bedside of his family physician, Dr. Obregon.

"I'm glad you came, Rudy, because I want you to do something for me. Engracia must be told of my accident but in a manner that won't alarm her unnecessarily. You know how women are."

Obregon hesitated. "Engracia already knows. That's why I'm here."

"Oh? Well, where is she?"

"Fidel, your wife has had a heart attack. It happened just a short time ago, apparently when she heard that you had been shot." Obregon put his hand on Aguilar's shoulder, preventing him from sitting up. "Now listen to me, Engracia's in no immediate danger. I first detected the condition at least seven years ago."

"Why wasn't I told?"

"Engracia didn't want you to know. You must understand that your wife's condition is neither congenital nor degenerative but is the result of extreme hypertension—high blood pressure—arising from prolonged worry."

"Worry? What on earth has Engracia had to worry about?"

"You," Obregon said.

Although a law enforcement agency, the Foot and Mouth Patrol had none of the headline potential of those organizations whose normal quarry was man. There is nothing particularly glamorous about tracking down a sheep—but the job was a vital one—all the same. Many an American rancher whose herds or flocks remained alive, despite the presence of the dread apthous fever just a few miles to the south, had the government fence riders to thank. There were 55 of them, altogether between Yuma and the sea.

Ash Emerson was one of these fence riders, a 10-year veteran. In look, he might have been mistaken for a ranchhand, a tall lanky man with mild eyes in a deeply tanned face, and a perpetual slouch that came from long hours in the saddle. He wore faded levis, a heavy flannel shirt and a battered ten gallon hat; the only hint of a uniform was the badge pinned to his breast pocket.

When Emerson spied another horseman loitering near the trail ahead, he scanned him vigilantly. But he relaxed immediately, recognizing the other man as an old acquaintance, a sheep rancher named Salazar. Salazar was waiting on the Mexican side of the line across from a pile of old automobile tires. Similar piles were placed at regular intervals along the fence and were used to keep in the burning of animals the patrol was forced to kill.

Emerson pulled up his horse opposite the Mexican. "Good morning, my friend. I am pleased to see you."

"And I you. I have been waiting for you."

Emerson offered the other man a cigarette. He didn't ask Salazar's purpose in interesting him, knowing that Salazar would get around to it when he chose. Salazar finally did. "Two days ago, I was visited by the soldiers from Ensenada. They were searching for a pair of desperadoes. Do you happen to know if they have found them?"

"As a matter of fact, they haven't."

"Then what I have to say may be of some importance, who knows? The storm yesterday caused one of my flocks to become scattered. In searching for them, my herder, Juan Reyes, rode a good distance to the south. Are you familiar with the Morcillo ranch?"

"I've hunted quail near there."

"Close by is an old silver mine, long abandoned. Juan Reyes claims to have seen a truck parked in the mouth of this old mine. Of course, it was raining and Juan Reyes has been known to exaggerate." Salazar expelled smoke slowly through his nostrils. "That is all."

And The Angel

...of Revelations said: "Gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe." How beautiful! How far-reaching is this challenge! It is up to us. Throughout the Bible the grape and the vine hold great spiritual meaning. They emphasize the close union between Christ and His church. We judge the vine from the fruit it bears. St. John warned us in the first place, that the branch cannot bear fruit, except it abide in the Lord. In a spiritual sense, man makes his own harvest. His reaping is strictly in accordance with how well he has taken care of the vineyard, how thoroughly he has supported the charities of the Lord, and how genuinely he has served God.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.
